

Ans Polymer Nobelist

How can you prove that a macromolecule is one large molecule, not a loose physical collection of stuff? What name do we associate with this proof?

Dilute solutions of the polymer and see whether the viscosity above that of solvent retains a value relative to the concentration itself.

Staudinger.